

NEW BUSINESS LAUNCH

Home helped us with our brand development project. They were very proactive, showed excellent judgement, kept cool heads under tremendous pressure and challenging deadlines, always went the extra mile and showed tremendous passion for the project; it really felt that they were part of our team. I would have no hesitation in recommending them - and Ian personally - and hope to work with them again soon.

BUSINESS GROWTH

Having worked closely with Ian over the last few years I have found his support invaluable. He ensured he had a very good understanding of our working context, gave particular attention to detail and his insights into business development have contributed significantly to the growth of ECF.
